

Intergenerational Programs with a Cultural Continuity Theme PROGRAM PLANNING WORKSHEET

Ways in which cultural heritage (and values) can be passed on.	Important cultural traditions in your community/county	How can older adults be involved in passing these traditions on to the younger generations? (Intergenerational program parameters)
		Program partners (what groups or organizations)?	In what settings?	What types of activities? (e.g., conversation groups)
Traditions related to Food
Traditions related to Holidays/ Celebrations
Traditions related to Crafts
Traditions related to The Natural Environment
Traditions related to Music and Dance
Traditions related to Sports and Traditional Games
Traditions related to Folklore
Other types of traditions

This worksheet was developed as part of a workshop conducted by Matt Kaplan, Patreese Ingram, Cheryl Miller, and Andrea Bressler entitled, Seniors as Conveyors of Culture: Lessons from Japan, Possibilities at Home, Penn State Cooperative Extension In-service presentation, March 6, 2006, University Park, PA. For additional resources from Penn State on intergenerational programming, go to: <http://intergenerational.cas.psu.edu>. For additional Penn State resources on diversity education, go to <http://diversityeducation.cas.psu.edu>.

Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity, and the diversity of its workforce.