Four Regional Community Behavioral Health Specialists are sought for an initiative led by the four Regional Rural Development Centers in conjunction with the US Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) and the US Department of Agriculture (USDA). The Community Assessment and Education to Promote Behavioral Health Planning and Evaluation (CAPE) initiative will assist local (state, county, city) decision makers (private for-profit, private non-profit, and government) in selecting and using data-driven benchmarks for identifying resource investment priorities and evaluating progress in improving community behavioral health outcomes. For an overview of the project, visit <http://healthbench.info/home.html>

Each Regional Community Behavioral Health Specialist will:

- Develop strong working relationships with state agencies in their multi-state territory
- Inventory and describe data resources available for benchmarking community behavioral health in their multi-state territory
- Facilitate surveys of end-users of community behavioral health data
- Develop region-appropriate toolkits and curricula appropriate for community health decision makers
- Assist in dissemination of materials, including delivery of training, and evaluation, including but not limited to webinars, other training events, and dissemination via the eXtension platform
- Coordinate activities with USDA's National Institute of Food and Agriculture, DHHS's Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, and University Extension services within their multi-state region

This is an excellent opportunity for a current employee to obtain a funded leave-of-absence from their current assignment to gain a more complete understanding of the national community behavioral health situation and to develop a national network of contacts throughout the land grant system. Compensation is commensurate with prior training, experience, and salary history.
